Built in 2012 by the hand of Architect João Favila Menezes from Atelier Bugio, this contemporary house breathes tranquility and details on a huge plot in the wider Evora municipality. It would suit a generation family or a family who likes to invite guests or to rent out and to enjoy the beauty of the Alentejo.

In the main house:

4 suites all with access to a courtyard.

The living room has a fireplace and exit to the outside.

The kitchen (equipped) is between the social spaces

The independent studio has a comfortable open space.

Technical aspects:

Water heating is done by: 1 main boiler and, to avoid excessive water consumption, another 3 boilers were placed respectively in 2 bathrooms and in the studio. There is air conditioning in all rooms.

The whole house was built to be well insulated (capoto system) including the quality of the doors and windows. The house has an air box and anti-seismic system.

There are 2 bore holes at 100 meters (with the proper licenses),
