This property in the middle of nature is yet very close to the town of Aljustrel making it a perfect location for rural tourism with easy access to both Algarve and Lisbon. The huge dam incorporates a weather station and the land is set up with irrigation for fruit trees along with cork oaks which are almost at an age for harvesting. The hedgerows have been planted with many different shrubs to allow for a natural pest control, hence no pesticides have been used since 2019.

The spacious house is ready to move into or could be easily refurbished to suit. This is a place to enjoy the peace and beauty of nature all around.
