Superbly located plot in the heart of Ferragudo with an approved project to construct a 3 story 20 bedroom hostel.

Ferragudo is a small attractive fishing town located on the mouth of the river Arade and has a close knit community of Portuguese and ex pats alike. Impressively, Ferragudo has managed to maintain much of its traditional charm, escaping the typical wholesale development that has invaded the Algarve coast line and surrounding towns. Consisting of typical whitewashed cottages, low rise buildings and a warren of cobbled streets. Located directly on the river front with many cafes, bars and restaurants where you can not only eat the catch of the day but watch it being unloaded. For such a small town there are many focal points including the church which sits prominently on the top of the hill in the center of the town. The 16th century medieval castle, Castelo de Sao Joao located on
