Nestled in a small Alentejan village, this space was carefully designed to organize weddings. It can accommodate up to 600 people for all types of family or tourist events. And despite its size, the atmosphere is pleasant, located in a beautiful and romantic park.

The plot size is huge and includes more than 1500 m2 of constructions as well as a large, very well maintained green space, divided into several sectors with different atmospheres.

The main building consists of 3 huge tents linked together to form an open space of nearly 550 m2 (250 + 250 + 50) including a bar. A corridor running along the pyramids gives access to numerous sanitary facilities (there are 22 throughout the property) and to the kitchens. There is also a restaurant, including another bar, located at the entrance of the building. At the other end of the corridor, a door leads to a balcony that bypasses the western part of one of the pyramids and overlooks the park.

Underneath the pyramids, there is another reception room, approximately 300 m2, also surrounded by bay windows and including a 3rd bar. This is adjacent to a 4th bar which is outside
